

Segregating & collecting your waste

Which container would you choose to segregate in your home?

Separating your organic waste from the rest is the first step. Here are some tips...

> Hard stalks of all veggies should be roughly cut before adding to the dump

> Citrus fruit peels need to be roughly cut up before adding them to the dump. We recommend adding a little compost 'starter' to help neutralise acidity

> Dried flower stalks and leafy stalks should be cut up into smaller bits to facilitate composting

Segregating your waste also involves changing the way you throw...

We often unconsciously mix bits of plastic wrappers or covers with packets into the container where we collect kitchen waste
